Linda and Brian:

When I submitted our EIS comments, I missed a typo on Table 16. I tried, without success, to get it corrected through BC Hydro. Hopefully it is something that you can have forwarded to BC Hydro even though I missed the deadline. The figure should read 4,118.

Thanks and my apologies for the late notice.

John

Hi John.

Apparently, items like this should be provided directly to the regulators, CEA Agency and the B.C. EAO, who can update collective records. For your convenience I've included their e-mail addresses below.

Canadian Environmental Assessment Agency: <http://www.ceaa.gc.ca/050/document-eng.cfm?document=85343>

Dave:

We submitted our comments on the EIS and one typo I missed is on the attached Table. I didn't know if it should be corrected or if we should just request the revenue from someone! Could you please forward to the appropriate individual for the correction.

Thanks.

John

16.3 Baseline Conditions

Local governments have both capital and operating budgets in their financial plan. This baseline description focuses on operating expenditures, as they are most directly linked to changes in service demand. Further detail on specific services that might be affected by the Project is provided in Volume 4 Section 30 Community Infrastructure and Services.

16.3.1 Revenues

Local government revenues are generated primarily through property taxes (including grants-in-lieu from Crown corporations such as BC Hydro) and sale of services. Communities in the LAA region also receive revenue from the provincial government through the Fair Share agreement. For the PRRD, electoral area requisitions, local government requisitions, and Municipal Finance Authority contributions are additional sources.

Table 16.5 shows total revenues for each PRRD community between 2004 and 2010. The annual Fair Share agreement funding from the province flows through the PRRD to the municipalities and rural areas in the LAA and is therefore reflected in the revenue of the PRRD and the municipalities. For example, in 2010, this resulted in a transfer of $31.2M from the PRRD to municipalities ($29.3 M) and Electoral Areas B, C, D, and E ($1.9 M) (Sander Rose Bone Grindle 2011). The communities experienced variation in revenue between 2004 and 2010. During this time, revenues have varied primarily as a result of capital project spending which includes those supported through lump sum funding from provincial and federal governments.

Table 16.6 shows the distribution of BC Hydro property taxes and grants-in-lieu payments for 2008 and 2011. The school tax is calculated based on the assessed property value in the municipality, but is paid to the provincial government. The grant portion and other taxes accrue to the local governments.
